

Special Operations Command Pacific

Command Sergeant Major Walter J. Zajkowski

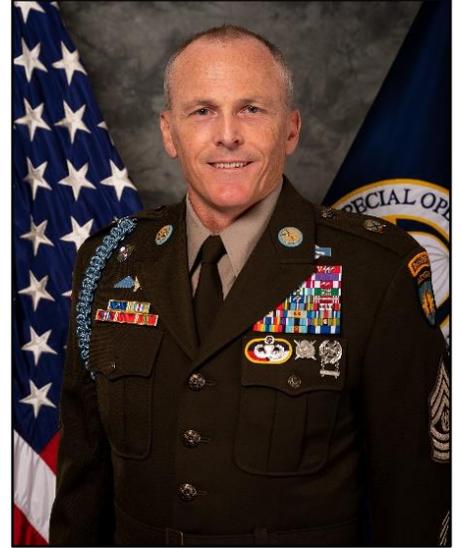

Command Senior Enlisted Leader

Command Sergeant Major Zajkowski is the Command Senior Enlisted Leader, Special Operations Command Pacific (SOCPAC), headquartered at Camp H.M. Smith, Hawaii.

Prior to his assignment at SOCPAC, he served as the Command Sergeant Major of 3rd Operational Support Group (2021-2022). Previous positions of responsibility include Battalion CSM, Force Generation Directorate SGM, Selection and Training SGM, Company SGM, Operations SGM, Training Instructor/Writer, Team Sergeant, and Team Member. CSM Zajkowski began his Army career in 2nd Battalion 75th Ranger Regiment (1994-1999) where he served as a Rifleman, Team Leader, and Squad Leader.

He enlisted in the Army in 1994 and served in multiple leadership positions within the joint special operations community. His education and training include the U.S. Special Operations Command Summit Course, the United States Army Sergeants Major Academy, Senior Leader Course, Advanced Leader Course, and Basic Leader Course. He holds a Bachelor of Arts in Middle Eastern Studies from American Military University. CSM Zajkowski is a graduate of the Defense Language Institute Modern Standard Arabic Course.

Command Sergeant Major Zajkowski deployed in support of multiple combat operations to include Operation Enduring Freedom, Operation Iraqi Freedom, and Operation Inherent Resolve.

His awards and decorations include the Silver Star, Legion of Merit w/C device, Bronze Star w/Valor, Purple Heart, Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Meritorious Service Medal, Joint Service Commendation Medal w/Valor device, Combat Infantryman Badge, Ranger Tab, Combat Diver Badge, Military Free Fall Jumpmaster Badge.